Great points all -- I was struggling with trying to figure out what she would say (as opposed to what I would say). The Souter comparison, for example, is what Stone said last year. But I will be sure to incorporate all of your other suggestions. Thanks!

On substance, I had a few thoughts.
-- I think it very odd to compare Owen to Souter and thereby imply that she is another Souter or would be another Souter on the US Supreme Court.
-- I am not sure the women appointee point works all that well, and I actually doubt that is the D's "real motivation" here as you say in last paragraph. Indeed, that strikes me as odd given that Clement, Raggi, and others were confirmed without a problem (and the King being a Republican point seems quite obscure). It seems to me that double standard is a better theme and to compare her to McConnell.
-- I am not sure that all legal scholars refer to Roe as the settled law of the land at the Supreme Court level since Court can always overrule its precedent, and three current Justices on the Court would do so. The point there is in the inferior court point.
-- It is hundreds not thousands, I believe, who have obtained bypasses.

My 2 cents. Thanks.

Thanks, Brett. I assume that you didn't find anything substantively problematic
with the op-ed draft, then? I don't expect any problems, but just wanted to make absolutely certain in case you had a chance to read it.

Barbara, I called you earlier this morning and left a message. If I don't hear back from you soon, I will just go ahead and contact Ann Stone. I won't proceed
on the others, however. Let's talk whenever you get the chance.
Thanks!
